Read the passage and answer the questions 28 to 30.
Scientists have spotted strange changes in light, deep in space, which claim to be a huge alien power station.
The huge cluster of objects seen is said to be so strange that the scientists have very little idea what it is. Some have speculated that it could be a swarm of megastructures built by the aliens, while others say it might be one of the biggest clouds of space dust ever seen.
	•	originate from findings about a s the Kepler Space Telescope, which		med KIC 8462852, which has been s for the planets like ours.
It sees planets by watching for variations in light that would be seen as they cross their star but when it spotted the light from the newly-famous star, the data didn't seem to indicate something planet shaped. If it is an alien megastructure, then most likely reason for building it would be to construct a Dyson sphere- a huge shell structure that would sit entirely around a star, collecting all of the energy that comes out of it.
